

GUARDEE DIDN'T LIKE 1/- GIFT TO PRINCESS

London, Oct. 11. No further action will be taken by the War Office in the case of a Grenadier Guardsman who wrote to a London newspaper complaining against a routine order stipulating that each Guardsman should pay one shilling towards the cost of a wedding present for Princess Elizabeth and was subsequently "erlined" for his action, a War Office official told Reuter today.

The Guardsman, J. Wright, wrote his letter of complaint to the London Daily Mirror, which drew the War Office's attention to the matter. The authorities agreed that it was wrong to have conveyed the impression that the contribution was compulsory, and the officer who drafted the order was told it was "unfortunately worded."

Inquiry

According to the Daily Mirror, instead of his clearing the incident, an inquiry was instituted at Wright's camp. The men were lined up and a sergeant, acting as a detective, asked "who did it?"

To save trouble Wright stepped forward. He was marched before the duty officer, Major P.M.C. Bowes-Lyon, and accused of improperly disclosing the contents of an army order.

The sentence was a severe reprimand.

Major Bowes-Lyon is second-cousin to the Queen.

"Irregular"

The War Office official told Reuter that "whatever the merits of Wright's complaint, he knowingly and deliberately broke a King's regulation by writing to a newspaper and disclosing the contents of the routine order in question. His sentence was right—he could have been fined or confined to barracks. So far, as we are concerned no further action will be taken."—Reuter.

London, Oct. 11.

Competent authorities have decided to reimpose the censorship of mails and telegrams, and censorship will first be clamped on the areas governed by martial law, the China Press said today quoting reports from a Government organ in Nanking.

Mails and telegrams to be censored will be:

1. Those which exchange information with Communists.
2. Publicly material of the Communist army.
3. Those which endanger the security of the Chinese Republic.
4. Those which undermine friendly relations with foreign countries.
5. Those which insult the head of the state.
6. Those which disturb social order.
7. Those which disclose military secrets.—Reuter.

CZECH CHILDREN TO TESTIFY

Nuremberg, Oct. 11. Czech children kidnapped by Germans from the razed Czech village of Lidice to be brought up as Nazis because they were "valuable," will testify at the trial of 14 former officials of the SS "Race and Settlement Office," which opened today.

All the defendants pleaded not guilty to war crimes and crimes against humanity through enslavement, abortion and extermination for "safe-guarding of Nordic blood."

The Race and Settlement Office is also accused of executing and imprisoning "undesirable" non-Germans married to Germans.—Reuter.

SOVIET REACTS TO ZHUKOV ATTACK

London, Oct. 12.

Moscow radio said today that the Soviet Government had protested to the Chinese Ambassador against a machine gun burst fired at the Russian Embassy in Santung on Thursday night.

A news broadcast heard in London said Deputy Foreign Minister Mihail "summoned" Ambassador Chao Chien-ping and told him that "the Soviet Government insisted on the speedy investigation and severe punishment of those guilty of the incident."

SAYING NOTHING

HONEYMOON

Doncaster, Oct. 11. Henry Whelpton, 31-year-old bus driver of Mexborough Road, Doncaster, was remanded in custody today charged with the murder of Mrs. Ethel Gertrude Parkin (48), her daughter Joyce (23) and her son Maurice (18) at their home in Wainwright Road, Doncaster.

It was stated in evidence that the unclothed bodies of the women were found in the living room, and the body of the boy in the kitchen. There appeared to be no signs of self-inflicted wounds. All three appeared to have been murdered.

Police officers visited the bus station where Whelpton had called for his wages and detained him. When charged, he replied: "I will say nothing now."—Reuter.

ANTI-WOMEN SOCIETY ASSERTS ITSELF

London, Oct. 11. Britain, which lays claim to some of the strangest societies in the world, today added yet another to its list—the Anti-Women Society (for men's rights).

"We are not misogynists," Fred Uermuth, President and founder of the society, said. "But we believe that women have encroached too much upon men's rights, and will unless checked eventually deprive them of their independence. We must, therefore, harness the one-sided irrationalism and misguided actions of extreme feminism."

Surrender

"Women must surrender freely those essentially masculine employments. If man is to be denied those things he most ardently desires—security and a family life—and if women refuse their rightful responsibilities and challenge of child bearing, it will inevitably lead to national extinction."

"We stand for the reassertion of old values. As men, we are legally responsible for the upkeep of the family so we should be able to obtain employment without economic rivalry from women."

"Our work will be slow and on the uphill, but I am convinced that in the end we will achieve our aims, and at the same time lead women's thoughts and ideas in the right direction."

Inviting application for membership, the society sets out its main objective as;

1. Stop women's incursion into masculine fields.
2. Encourage more women to marry by initiating for a state grant for mothers.—Reuter.

Chinese Urge Return Of Hong Kong

Shanghai, Oct. 12. The local Chinese newspaper, Chien Sien Jih Pao, commenting on the British Parliamentary Mission, urged Britain to return Hong Kong to China.

The paper said, "Now that the British Parliamentary Mission has come to China, we wish to reiterate our demand for the rendition of Hong Kong and Kowloon, because so long as Hong Kong and Kowloon are not returned to their original owner, there will be a stain on Sino-British relations."—Reuter.

"Cripps The Cold"

Simultaneously with the report of the transfer of British Gold Reserves from London to New York has come a reference by Sir Stafford Cripps to a "process of economic strangulation." Sir Stafford Cripps has a brain that is cold and clear. He can be relied upon not to be guilty of exaggeration.

The announcement of the transfer from the last reserve was timed so as to tell in such a way as to bring home to the British public the "seriousness of gradual economic strangulation" would pass in a night. Economies are not governed by rule of thumb alone.

A more pronouncement that the problem was being considered upon the above lines would, I am convinced, ease the position. Nothing more is required than that a spade should be called a spade and that the hard facts should be examined and considered. To talk by way of sputon about a small loan from America to England is but expatiating nonsense.

Let it be remembered always that "a gradual process of economic exhaustion" will of a certainty involve American suffering at the moment, grave internal pains arising largely out of a surfeit of gold.

England is suffering from a shortage of gold because statesmen politicians have not dated to say starkly and openly what it is they have to pay in intelligence that have prudently incurred a debt of £1,000,000,000.

Relatives of the two accused salutes are sounding from the United States of America. The

Corregidor Hand-Over A Victory

Corregidor, Manila

Bay, Oct. 12. As America's National Anthem rolled over topside parade grounds the Stars and Stripes were lowered today for the last time.

Fir Lieutenant Buczok, and a colour guard of the United States Army Philippine Scouts, folded the flag neatly and gave way to Captain Vicente Alambra, of the Second Military Police Battalion of the Philippine Army.

A Philippine colour guard then secured the garrison flag of the Philippine Republic and hoisted it to the masthead.

Corregidor, for the first time in 162 years, was once again Philippine soil.

A crowd of 400 invited guests, including 30 veterans of Corregidor's five-month siege and its commander in peace and war, Major General George Moore, looked on.

Memorial

As Master-Sergeant Gustave Rosenfelt put it: "If it were me I would not have turned it over—I would have kept it for a memorial."

President Roxas, accepting for the Philippines, put it differently:

"The American flag was lowered this time in victory, a victory of democracy, of justice, of love of freedom and undying devotion to the cause of peace all over the world."—Associated Press.

U.S. MOVE ON BALKAN GUERRILLAS

Lake Success, Oct. 11.

The United Nations Political Committee approved last night a French-British compromise in the Balkans case which toned down a United States resolution accusing Yugoslavia, Albania and Bulgaria of aiding Greek guerrillas.

The vote on the French-British proposal, which merely took account of the report of a Security Council Investigating Commission, was 32 to 7. There were 13 abstentions with six nations of the 67-member committee absent.

This portion of the French-British amendment represented a conciliatory move to tone down an original American resolution which placed blame on the three Balkan nations for aiding Greek guerrillas.

The second paragraph in the amendment reading "calls upon Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia to do nothing which could furnish aid and assistance to the Balkan guerrillas" was passed by a vote of 34 to 7 with 11 abstentions. The Russian group was against both actions.—Associated Press.

Mr. Attlee's Letter To Chang Chun

A Great Role In The Future

Truman's Appeal A Flop

New York, Oct. 11. This nation, which went aboard for an "18-day diet" and other food fads promoted on the slogan basis today appeared to be snubbing the Government's slogan campaign to save food.

The first week of the drive to feed Europe by saving food on meatless Tuesdays and eggless Thursdays appeared to be from successful.

Restaurants, noting no public resentment when some of them turned down the President's plan to eliminate meat and eggs from menus once a week, seemed to be hopping on the non-compliance bandwagon and there appeared to be little likelihood that the campaign would take effect until the American people have been shown they should eliminate meat and poultry in a move to save grain.—United Press.

Luxury Cars For America

London, Oct. 12. A Fleet of the world's most expensive and luxurious cars going to the United States in search of dollars was given a send-off today by the Minister for Economic Affairs, Sir Stafford Cripps.

The fleet consists of seven Rolls Royce Bentleys, the cheapest being a Bentley costing £3,250.

Other Bentleys cost up to £4,500. The Rolls Royce models will set their purchasers back anything from £3,750 to £4,750.

Equipped with special couches designed to appeal to American buyers, they will make a coast-to-coast tour of the United States starting in New York and covering about 20,000 miles.

Expressing a hope that the ten cars will pick up order over the next twelve months for the entire output of these luxury cars of about £50,000,000, Sir Stafford Cripps said: "This we can feel we have accomplished something to help pay for meat, bread and other things we require from the dollar markets of the world."—Reuter.

Nanking, Oct. 11. Mr. Clement Attlee, in a letter to Premier Chang Chun, expressed the hope that the present British Parliamentary Mission "may strengthen and tighten the bonds of friendship and sympathy" between Britain and China.

The letter, brought by the Mission which arrived here on Thursday, stressed that "to the problems of peace a solution now remains to be found."

The full text of the letter read: "Dear General Chang Chun: this letter will reach you by hand of the second Parliamentary delegation to leave this country for China.

"Since then victory over the Axis powers has crowned our united armies; to the problems of peace, a solution now remains to be found."

Strong Bond

"I trust that the present delegation may be able during their short stay to convey to the people of China something of our present difficulties here and steps we are taking to surmount them and that in so doing they may strengthen and tighten the bonds of friendship and sympathy between our two countries."

"They will I hope further convey my cordial greetings to you personally and my best wishes for the prosperity and welfare of your country. Yours sincerely, Clement R. Attlee."

The head of the mission, Lord Ammon, is understood to have also conveyed a letter to President Chiang Kai-shek.

The strong bond which binds China and Britain together will not be broken, Lord Ammon said at a reception given by the Sino-British Cultural Association here last evening.

Mr. Hanli Wu, Secretary-General of the Association, introducing the mission said: "The success of this mission even at this initial stage is already assured. Your country and ours had many similar experiences during the war and we are both now confronted by grave economic consequences of that unprecedented struggle."

Great Role

Lord Ammon praised the work of the Sino-British Cultural Association and said that he and the mission would foster the age-long friendship between the two countries.

"We in England are greatly interested in the exchange of ideals and ideas with China."

AURIOL AT THE ABBEY

Paris, Oct. 11. M. Vincent Auriol, President of the Republic, will probably go to London to attend the marriage of Princess Elizabeth and Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten on Nov. 20.

A spokesman said: "There has been no official decision yet, but it is very probable that President Auriol will be asked by the Council of Ministers to represent France at the Royal marriage."—Reuter.

PAID 45 YEARS LATER

Nottingham, Oct. 11. The station master for Nottingham today collected a penny fare that a traveller forgot to pay in 1902.

Dimitrov Tries To Explain It

Sofia, Oct. 11. Prime Minister Georgi Dimitrov, in an exclusive United Press interview, said today that American and British intervention made it impossible for him to commute the death sentence of Agrarian leader Nicola Petkov.

Petkov was convicted on charges of seeking to overthrow Dimitrov's Government by force.

"It became impossible to commute Petkov's sentence after the rude attempt of British and American representatives in Sofia to intervene in the activity of sovereign Bulgarian justice," Dimitrov said.

"It can be said directly that these interventions had a big share of the responsibility for the fate of Petkov himself."

In lengthy answers to a series of questions submitted by the United Press, Dimitrov replied point by point to the criticisms of Petkov's trial and execution made by the Western Powers and the press.

He said Petkov prepared a coup d'état "against the moment of direct Anglo-American intervention in Bulgaria" which he expected on or after the evacuation of Bulgarian territory by Soviet troops.

Britain To Show Her Hand

London, Oct. 11. The United States declaration on Palestine at Lake Success will force Britain to disclose her basic attitude to the majority recommendations of the United Nations Special Committee on Palestine report, according to diplomatic quarters in London.

The British statement, while refraining from giving an opinion on the report, said that the question of whether Britain would assist in enforcing a decision of the United Nations would depend on the degree of force required and on the intrinsic justice of the solution proposed.

Mr. Herschel Johnson, the United States delegate, broadly endorsing partition, had proposed an international volunteer police force to enforce it and Britain's answer to the question whether she would take part in this police force would entail an answer on the justice of partition, according to the same quarters.—Reuter.

Uprising On Turkish Border

Istanbul, Oct. 12. A serious uprising has taken place in the Turkish-Syrian border near the railway linking Turkey with Iraq, reports reaching here from Aleppo said today.

The revolt was said to have been fomented by Kurdish chieftain with the aim of proclaiming Kurdish independence. He was reported to have said that the movement was directed against Turkey, not Syria, and that the Turkish Government was despatching forces to the area. Communist elements were reportedly to have supported the movement.

No confirmation of the reports was available here.

In June this year, Kurdish tribesmen led by Mullah Mustafa Al Barazani, who fled to Persia in 1945 after an abortive revolt against the Iraq Government, were badly defeated by Persian troops after several weeks of fighting. At the same time, several Kurdish chieftains associated with the movement for a Kurdish Republic in the province of Kurdistan, surrendered to the Iraq Government.—Reuter.

U.N. Vote On Colonies

Lake Success, Oct. 11.

Despite opposition by colonial powers, supported by the United States, a Soviet proposal asking that the countries administering non-self-governing territories should transmit information on the participation of the local populations in the work of local organs, was endorsed by the United Nations Trusteeship Committee today by a vote of 24 to 18 against.

The United States delegate,

Mr. Francis Sayre, opposing the Soviet proposal, said that it was in direct conflict with the provisions of the Charter.

He added: "My Government has, in practice, transmitted information on Governmental institutions as a voluntary act and expects to do so in the future if such action is not misunderstood or misinterpreted." —Reuter.

CHINA COAST MANSLAUGHTER

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.

Stellos Montos, 62, merchant seaman of Brooklyn, New York, was convicted last night by a Federal Court jury of involuntary manslaughter of William Detlef, Cincinnati, first mate of the USS Francis Scott Key, off the China coast last April 24.

Montos, who had been in Asia since the ship docked here on May 25, testified that he had no recollection of a quarrel in which the Government alleged Detlef was stabbed fatally. He died in hospital at Chinawangtao.—Associated Press.

GOOD NEWS FOR HOUSEWIVES

London, Oct. 12.

Princess Elizabeth will board a Royal train on Monday morning for a ride from Scotland to London—a journey into an ocean of busy preparations for her November wedding.

Except for one week-end in the capital to be godmother to a friend's baby daughter, Lady Elphinstone, Elizabeth has been holidaying at Balmoral with her fiance, Lieutenant Philip Mountbatten, who has been a guest of the Royal Family.

In the hours of privacy the couple have shared gay evenings in the Castle and morning horseback rides over the Scottish hills. But during the Princess' few public appearances, her Consul-to-be has stayed in the background.

Ahead of the Princess lie fittings of her ultra-secret wedding dress and the rest of her crisis-laden wedding wardrobe. At her express wish, both Palace officials and Norman Hartnell, the Royal dressmaker, have clung stubbornly to her bars on publicity about her clothes despite mounting hints.

There are only five weeks remaining before the whirl of wedding week social events begins with a wedding present party in St. James Palace, a dinner with guests from Europe's crowned houses, a huge reception and finally, the wedding.

She will go along to Parliament a week from Tuesday to watch her father open the third session of Parliament. It will be a lesson in procedure that some day she will have to follow as ruling Queen.

There also are a host of personal details to be settled—conferences with her eight bridesmaids, deciding whether to give their support.—Reuter.

NEW COAL THREAT

Manchester, Oct. 12.

"A new threat to the coal production of Britain" was made here today when nearly 2,000 members of the Lancashire and Cheshire Colliery Officers Association decided to go on strike if their claim for £1 a week increase on the basic wage was not granted.

The Secretary of the Association, Mr. Charles Gudgen, announced that strike notice would be withheld for about two weeks until colliery officials in other parts of Britain decided whether or not to give their support.—Reuter.

FOR BRITAIN

London, Oct. 12.

The Netherlands Government has given 500 Freischliders to British farmers as a token of the sympathy of the Dutch people with British farmers in their sufferings through floods last winter.

The cattle will be sold here for the benefit of the Agricultural Disaster Fund.—Reuter.

Scientific Warfare Experiments

Brisbane, Oct. 12.

A great expansion and acceleration of the Empire's scientific warfare preparations in Central Australia is to take place. Cost of the project is now estimated at £23,000,000.

Four hundred British scientists and technicians are shortly coming to Australia to develop and test certain scientific weapons which have been "born" since the rocket-range plans were formulated immediately after the war. The Australian and British Governments have made arrangements now beyond experiments with rocket-bombs and supersonic aircraft. It is stated in Canberra, "Science has been redoubled but widespread rumours concern what is virtually a winged bomb with a range of some thousands of miles," guided with the assistance of stellar navigation.

Speeds Up.

Australian scientists are cooperating fully in the experiments, which have been carried out by the Royal Australian Air Force. An announcement of the project was made by the Minister of Supply, Mr. Frank Forde, on October 10. The project is to be completed by 1950. The cost of the project is £23,000,000.

Japs Said To Exploit U.S. And Soviet

Sydney, Oct. 12. Mr. W. MacMahon Ball, former member of the Allied Council, for Japan, said in an article written for the "Sunday Telegraph" that "Japan's policy today is to exploit every possible way America's fear and suspicion of Russia and Communism."

He said: "It would be probably false to say Japan's present leaders desire another war."

"They have too fresh a memory of the risks involved. But they certainly appreciate the atmosphere of hostility between America and Russia."

"The present atmosphere provides them a superb opportunity to play off Russia against America. They are fully aware of their strategic importance to both great powers."

Common Sense

"At present General MacArthur controls Japan. So it is more common sense to play up to the United States."

"The Japanese are anxious to co-operate with General MacArthur's headquarters in processing Japanese repatriates from Soviet-controlled areas."

"They are eager to co-operate with Allied intelligence and counter-intelligence organisations."

"They know that two years ago these bodies were mainly concerned with catching up with the Japanese militarist and ultra-nationalists whereas today they are almost wholly concerned with catching up with Communist or Russian agents."

Mr. MacMahon Ball said the Japanese still want to please General MacArthur but now their "primary political motive is to qualify for American aid in terms of the Truman Doctrine." —United Press.

Geisha Wins Libel Suit--And Loves On

Tokyo, Oct. 12. Office today indicted a Japanese author and publisher for criminal libel after a month-long investigation of a libel suit filed against them by a 43-year-old former geisha.

She served a prison term for Japan's most sensational sex slaying.

Sada Abe, who even today is known throughout the nation as "Osatsu" because of the nature of the sensational slaying of her lover in 1936, complained that the book entitled "Confessions of A Nymphomaniac," allegedly portraying her amours, distorted the actual facts of her life.

The author, Ichiro Kimura, and the publisher, Sogetsu Ishigami, saw their book become a best seller, selling 100,000 copies within two months at 50 yen (US$1 under the army's conversion rate).

During the trial in 1936, Osada testified that she was in the habit of squeezing the neck of her lover while they made love. One night she found she had strangled him to death.

Osada was sentenced to 16 years in prison but was released in 1942 on account of good behaviour.

Osada recently told the people that she still loves her former lover, Kichizo Ishida,

NOT TOO MUCH TIME

Three startling conclusions must be drawn from pronouncements recently in America about aid to Europe. The first is that there is no sense of urgency in American policy in the matter. The second is that the "emergency relief programme," of which President Truman spoke, cannot possibly be enough to keep the volt from Europe's door. The third is that it is assumed that Britain will not need any emergency aid this winter at all. Comment on these conclusions can be left to Americans themselves.

"Tragically slow-moving" is the note sounded practically throughout the American press. American aid to Europe is not some process of the easy transfer of superfluous abundance from one Continent to another. It involves calls upon American citizens to which only great resilience can assure a ready response. Neither approval, nor collection, nor delivery are simple matters. For that very reason a long bill in the process cannot be considered as other than reprehensible and dangerous.

To take first those whose position is even more serious than that of Britain, the scale of the emergency aid contemplated by the President is less than the estimated winter needs for only one of the countries—France. In food and fuel alone. Moreover, the President has included in his figure funds already voted for post-UNRRA aid, most of which have already been spent. It is not easy to see how either France or Italy can avert an economic disaster, which might only too easily be followed by a political disaster. There is nothing imaginary about their plight.

In Britain's case the country can perhaps get through on its surviving reserves until such time as an American decision on long-term plans is forthcoming. To do so Britain must, however, devote itself with resolute energy to the development of its own economic strength both in the home lands and in the Empire, for if President Truman has failed to feel or to impart a sense of crisis, that is undeniably also true of sections of the British people.

Again, the more Britain is thrown back upon itself, on the Empire, and on other countries outside the dollar area, the more impossible does it become to accept the principle, dear to the Americans, of non-discrimination in trade. Britain must be free to make bargains, to grant or to extend preferences to others within and without the Empire. These are new reasons, and there were always reasons enough—to resist the assault, particularly upon imperial preferences, which has been a feature of the long international trade conference in Geneva. While fully conceding the right of Americans to time in which to consider what they will do, it must never be forgotten that Britain has not too much time in which to organise its ability to exist.

CLOSER COALITION OF THE WEST

New steps to strengthen the workday coalition of the western powers are expected by many diplomatic experts attending the United Nations Assembly. They believe that must come as a result of the sharpening East-West conflict both in and out of the United Nations.

American and western European authorities said these steps will be crystallised only after every resource to win Russia's cooperation on specific issues has been exhausted.

One move which these informants consider highly probable next year, however, is economic "unification" of the French zone in Germany with the already merged British and American zones. This is predicted on a failure of the forthcoming London Foreign Ministers' conference to unify the Reich.

Another possible move which has received careful study among American officials is creation of a defensive alliance within the United Nations framework. Its purpose would be to put the Soviets on notice not to start anything.

Still a third possibility discussed is to have the United Nations Assembly at a future time call for nations to volunteer armed forces to carry out United Nations purposes.

There is some belief that the only nations which would actively cooperate would be the western powers.

Three weeks of United Nations Assembly meetings this session have deepened the concern among most of the 67 national delegations here over the state of disorganisation and fear in the world and their inability to do anything decisive about it.

The American and Russian delegations inevitably have intensified the conflict. The United States' position is that Russia is to blame that Russia has spread paralysis from the veto-stripped Security Council throughout the whole United Nations organisation.

The essence of appointed American policy to meet this situation is to try to make the United Nations work without Russian cooperation. The American officials assail the Russian diplomats as a propaganda campaign. They say it is a continuation of an effort to divert the UN from serious work and hamstring it while Communism tries to take over in Greece. This American view is not shared 100 per cent by either the international officials of the United Nations Secretariat or by western European delegations.

Some of those still contend Russia is motivated chiefly by fear and that its policy is designed to provide security in a world dominated by "capitalist" power. They argue that Vishinsky's speech to the Assembly reflected real apprehension and that stability, therefore, would be greater if the UN could find some way to reassure the Russians.

There seems at this time no doubt that the United States can get the 88 or so votes required to put over its entire programme. But the American case is slightly less secure than it was two weeks ago.

A few Americans and some Europeans believe the United States made a blunder on the Security Council election rivalry between the Soviet Ukraine and India. The United States rejected the Soviet Ukraine for membership on the Security Council and favoured India, thereby moving to deny eastern Europe a representative to replace Poland.

On a relatively minor issue, the contest showed up unexpected Soviet strength and American bad handling. In the result, India, with British and Asiatic support, obtained minority vote totals while the Ukraine, with skilful Russian manoeuvring, split the western bloc and counted a majority on every vote.—Associated Press.

Labour Restive In France

Paris, Oct. 11. A delegation from all trade unions representing workers on the Paris Metro (underground) is to visit the Ministry of Transport to demand immediate satisfaction of claims for improved conditions following a strike of drivers which delayed Parisians on their way to work today.

Thousands of Parisians had to walk or go by bus or taxi but drivers not belonging to the strikers' organisation volunteered to work overtime and by 9 a.m. services were almost normal.

The National Federation of Transport decided that the delegation to the Ministry should claim regrading of workers with the grant of a provisional payment in anticipation of regrading, and in return to the pay-war system for workers falling sick.

Metro workers were holding a meeting tonight at a Labour exchange in the St. Denis district of Paris.

The drivers, who went on strike, belonged to the Syndicat Autonome which is not recognised by the principal French trade union.

They claimed an 11 per cent wage increase, a 42-hour week and recognition of their union.

The General Union of Underground Workers, which claimed the majority of the Metro workers as members, said in a communiqué that rumours of a general underground strike were unfounded.

It called on all workers to stay at their jobs.—Reuters.

Metro workers were holding a meeting tonight at a Labour exchange in the St. Denis district of Paris.

The drivers, who went on strike, belonged to the Syndicat Autonome which is not recognised by the principal French trade union.

They claimed an 11 per cent wage increase, a 42-hour week and recognition of their union.

The General Union of Underground Workers, which claimed the majority of the Metro workers as members, said in a communiqué that rumours of a general underground strike were unfounded.

ATHLETIC BEAT SAINTS BY ONLY GOAL IN MATCH Inniskillings Fail Badly: Navy Account For K.M.B.

Without the services of David Leonard, St. Joseph's did very well in their First Division game against Chinese Athletic yesterday at Boundary Road to Jose by the only goal of the match. At Sookunpoo, Inniskillings went down badly to Eastern by five goals to one, after being three goals to one down at the interval. Royal Navy easily accounted for Kowloon Motor Bus in the Second Division by four goals to two. A good game was seen between Sing Tao and R.A.M.C. The former won by four

FIRST DIVISION

C.A.-St. Joseph's

The biggest crowd yet seen at Boundary Road this season watched Chinese Athletic beat St. Joseph's by one goal to nil.

Yuen Kwan-pan's place in the Chinese team was taken by Lam Wing-chung, who played a good game.

Without D. Leonard, the Saints were somewhat disorganized and the forwards lacked the dash which was a feature of their play the previous week.

G. Perera was in the lead his usual self and had to leave the field for a time suffering from cramps.

For the Chinese Lee Tat-fai and Lung Ping-kwan were dangerous forwards. Lee Chung-fat was always a menace but he was erratic in his shooting.

The play opened with Chinese Athletic attacking. After 20 minutes, Moon Cheung-wing scored from a rebound from the cross bar to open the scoring for the Chinese.

The Chinese continued to have the balance of the play but kept the ball away from the defense. Inniskillings were completely off form yesterday and their defense was due in the main to a deplorably weak defense.

Anziloff was not altogether happy in goal, but did succeed in bringing off a number of fine saves to save his side from a certain defeat.

The full backs, Brooks and Hingley, lacked understanding and were out-manoeuvred time after time.

From the kick-off, Inniskillings' pressing and swept up the field, giving the impression that they were going to carry everything before them.

The first thrill came when Hobson shook the cross-bar with a pile driver from about 25 yards distance.

The Chinese took the ball down and following a neat bout of passing between Lee Tak-kei and Lee Kam-ho, the ball was tapped to Lee Fook-chuen, who sent in a long drive which entered the top right-hand corner of the net seven minutes after the commencement.

Continuing the pressure, Lee Tat-fai, the Chinese outside-right, put in a good run but although his colleagues were well up to it, they failed to connect.

Amid great excitement, St. Joseph's netted during the second half, one of the forwards was penalized for using one of the defender's shoulders to gain height and the point was disallowed.

On the whole the game was very keenly fought. There was too little constructive play and too much smouldering.

Chinese Athletic: Lam Wing-chung; Ho Kien-pan and Cheung Wah-tai; Yuen Kwan-pan, Lung Ping-kwan and Chen Ching-pui; Lee Tat-fai, Kwok Chi-kwong, Lo Yiu-pan, Lee Chung-fat, Lee Fook-chuen, Lee Cheung-wing, Lee Chung-wan, Lee Chung-pan and Lee Chung-pan.

St. Joseph's: Macdonald; Hobson and Castle; Bundschuh, Manson and Perera; Xavier, Brown, Cruz, G. Perera and O'Brien.

Inniskillings: D. Leonard; Brooks and Hingley; Chantrell, Manson and Perera; Xavier, Brown, Cruz, G. Perera and O'Brien.

Navy Account For K.M.B.

London, Oct. 11.—The visiting Australian rugby fifteen today beat the South of Scotland by 15 points to 6, while in the Rugby Union County Championship Dorset and Wiltshire went down to Devon by 0-24.

The Australian points came through a goal, a dropped goal and two penalty goals, while the South of Scotland scored two penalty goals.

Played on the Melrose ground, the South of Scotland put up a grand fight until the last 20 minutes, when they appeared to tire.

The Australians, however, did not impress as much as in some of their former matches.

In the club matches, Newpost, after trailing behind, Birkdale by eight points at the interval, reassured their three-quarters and ran out winners by two points—two goals to a goal and a try. Birkdale put up a great fight at Lanark where they lost by only one point.

Wales proved too good for Yorkshire, whom they defeated by 30 points to 6, despite the fact that they lost one of their forwards just ten minutes or so before the start.

Cardiff beat Newport 10-3—Neath

Eastern-Inniskillings

Eastern surprised even their own supporters by scoring a convincing 6-1 victory over Inniskillings at Sookunpoo.

The Chinese were definitely the superior team and fully deserved their win.

Tam Kwan-pan played a sound game in goal and was safe in handing the ball.

Of the two backs, Fok Yiu-wah was the steadier.

Lo Wan-pan, the pivot, kept a close watch on Mitchell and scarcely made a mistake in getting him side out of awkward half.

The two wingers, Yuen Yiu-wah and Yuen Yiu-wah, used their speed to good effect and centred well.

Inniskillings were completely off form yesterday and their defense was due in the main to a deplorably weak defense.

Anziloff was not altogether happy in goal, but did succeed in bringing off a number of fine saves to save his side from a certain defeat.

The full backs, Brooks and Hingley, lacked understanding and were out-manoeuvred time after time.

Inniskillings: D. Leonard; Brooks and Hingley; Chantrell, Manson and Perera; Xavier, Brown, Cruz, G. Perera and O'Brien.

The Chinese continued to monopolize the play, but were unable to increase their lead through bad shooting and faulty finishing.

Just before time, Eastern scored their fifth goal when Lee Tak-kei, outpacing the defense, ran forward to lob the ball into the net over the head of the approaching McCullough.

Eastern: Tam Kwan-pan, Tam Yiu-wah, Teang Sik-hong, Lo Wan-pan, Lo Tak-kei, Lau Fook-chuen and Yuen Yiu-wah.

Inniskillings: McCullough, Brooks, Hobson, Richard, Macdonald, Mitchell, Gardner and Hunter.

SECOND DIVISION

K.M.B.-Navy

At Boundary Road, Navy beat Kowloon Motor Bus by four goals to one.

The strong Navy side were more than the nippy Bus players could cope with and they looked like swamping the Chinese towards the end of the first half.

After 25 minutes play a centre by Oliver was converted by Sydes who scored a second a minute later. The wily Foxley scored with a brilliant shot three minutes later from the edge of the penalty area.

A minute before the breaker Sydes completed his "hat trick" following a goalmouth muddle.

During the second half Navy cast up and ten minutes from time Ho Man-fan broke away and scored a good solo goal.

Law Po-sin, the Bus center-half and Mak Lam-look, the right back distinguished themselves with some good tackling.
